TRANSCRIPT GUIDE

Credit and grading system. Nexford University calculates Grade Point Averages (GPAs) on a four-point scale. The university does not grant D grades. Each term is equivalent to eight weeks in length. The Associate of Applied Science in Business (AAS) program requires 60 credits. The Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) program requires a minimum of 120 credits. Graduate-level programs require a minimum of 36 credits (40 credits for Master of Science in Entrepreneurship (MSE) learners).

Master of Business Administration (MBA) learners who enrolled prior to April 2022 were able to complete all program requirements with a C for a maximum of two courses. Beginning April 2022, all learners enrolled in graduate level programs are required to obtain a minimum grade of B to pass a course. A C-grade does not merit any credit.

COURSE AND GRADE TYPE NOTATIONS

T - External transfer credit	(R) - Repeated course. Learners can repeat any course they have failed for a maximum of two takings combined. Grades for both attempts of a repeated course appear on the transcript with the higher grade being considered in the calculation of the overall and term grade point average (GPA).
IT - Internal transfer credit
(FD) - Foundation course. Credits earned are not included in the GPA calculation.

Stacked credential model. Nexford University has a stacked credential model enabling learners to earn other credentials alongside their chosen academic program during their course of study. For example, when a learner graduates with a BBA degree, they will also earn an AAS degree as well as other certificates while enrolled in the program.

ACADEMIC STANDING

A learner is in good standing unless otherwise indicated. A CGPA of 2.50 is required at an undergraduate level and 3.0 is required at a graduate level for good academic standing and for graduation.

PRIVACY

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, NXU is not authorized to disclose any information without the learner's consent. This information is released on the condition that it will not be released to any other party without the written permission of the individual whose record it is.

TRANSFER CREDIT

All courses that have been transferred to Nexford University from another institution appear on the learner's record with the name of the institution, course title, and number of credits.

Transferred credits are not factored in the learner's CGPA.
